This event is planned and led by men seasoned in facilitating men's retreats and working with men through deep personal experiences.

The schedule for the weekend will include large group gatherings with stories and poems, small group sessions, many workshops to choose from, music, a pre-conference workshop for men who want to build drums, and enough free time to explore the beautiful camp and lake. And then there's that special synergy when so many men gather together.

Workshops will be presented on various topics including:

- 25 years of Mythopoetics: A Primer On Men's Work, using the books Iron John and Fire In The Belly
- Dynamic Breathwork
- Money Myths: The Unconscious Stories That Run Our Lives
- Grief Recovery: Finding The Gold At Rainbow's End
- The Gene Stops Here: Childfree By Choice Or Circumstance
- Men In The Arms Of The Poet

A drum making workshop will be presented as a pre-conference event. Come on Thursday when Tom Harris will help men build their own drums, Djembe, Ashiko or Djun Djun. Contact Tom at tom.harris@innerharbour.net or 770-843-3556 to register and for details, prices, etc.

Sign in will be from 5 to 7 PM on Friday. The program will begin at 7PM. Drummers who can - come early to prepare.

Cost for the weekend, which includes food and lodging:

$120 for payment postmarked by April 4.

$150 for payment postmarked after April 4.

Full refund available if requested by March 23, half refund by April 6. Financial aid available, no one will be excluded due to financial need. Contact Chris Wilson for more information.

Camp Chestnut Ridge is situated among 340 acres of beautiful wooded hills, wetlands, and a 9 acre lake. Cabins are dormitory style with bunks, toilets, and showers - or bring a tent and camp out! Please bring your own bedding.

Registration can be made with the form on the reverse side or at our web site, TriangleMensCenter.org. When we receive your registration, we will send updated information and a map to Camp Chestnut Ridge using your email address if we have one or your mailing address if we don't. We will also make suggestions of what to bring to make your weekend successful. Musical instruments and your poetry are encouraged. Radios, cell phones, arriving late, leaving early, are strongly discouraged.

This spring, in a picturesque setting in rural North Carolina, a Gathering of Men will meet for an extraordinary weekend. A wealth of men will explore what we value, treasure, and the real worth of our lives.

Join us for a Mythopoetic weekend:
stories, workshops, poems, men's community, spirit and support. This description won't define this profound experience but joining us at Camp Chestnut Ridge will.
